

Bio - Marisa Matteucci Mott

title

Professional Colorer

credo

Don't take yourself too seriously.

phobias

Stepping on scorpions, creating a portrait with crazy eyes or twisted expression, or over-layering paint to the point that it falls off in one messy clump.

goods

I play with art constantly; plus practice, tweak, collect and admire it. Self-direction, flexibility, and responsiveness are just a few of my down-right, super-duper habits.

kicks

Negative space illusions, Demetri Martin drawings, vintage neon, and NHRA drag racing

life work status

Originally a side hustle, Cowboy Kimono became my main gig in 2019. It's my dream job built on painted clothing, portrait, and illustration commissions. At the same time, my 30+ year graphic design career is morphing into a digital marketing career.
